

Industrial Relations Society of Victoria

Student Essay Writing Competition

The Industrial Relations Society of Victoria invites all Victorian undergraduate and postgraduate students to submit an essay to the annual Industrial Relations Society of Victoria Student Essay Writing Competition. The winning entries at undergraduate and postgraduate level will each receive a cash prize of $500, and professional assistance by a member of the editorial board of academic journal Labour and Industry to develop the paper to a level ready for consideration for publication in the journal. The winner will also receive a free annual student membership of the IRSV for 2012.

This competition is open to all Victorian undergraduate and postgraduate university students with a passion for, or interest in, industrial relations. Entrants should submit a paper of between 2,500 and 10,000 words on a contemporary issue in Australian industrial relations. All entries must be submitted electronically to irsv@alphalink.com.au, by the close of business on Friday 25 November 2011, and must be accompanied by the registration form below. Entries received without the declaration below will not be accepted.

Entries will be judged by an experienced panel of Industrial Relations practitioners and academics.

Winning entrants will be notified by phone and email. The decision of the judging panel will be final.
